Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely Persian or Urdu, spanning six lines. The text is written on aged, slightly discolored paper. The script is dense and flowing, with some ink bleed-through visible from the reverse side. The lines are roughly horizontal, following the natural curve of the paper. There are some dark spots and minor damage to the paper, particularly in the center and towards the right edge.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in a single column and appears to be a list or a series of entries, possibly related to a legal or administrative record. The script is dense and difficult to decipher without specialized knowledge of the language.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in a single column and appears to be a list or a series of entries, possibly related to a legal or administrative record. The script is dense and difficult to decipher without specialized knowledge of the language.
